

The Ocean State

By: Austin Reed

Sometimes you see lots of beaches and sometimes you can see lots of land. This is how travelers explain the state, Rhode Island. Rhode Island is a place where lots of people live. However it is the smallest state in the United States. Also Rhode Island is covered in almost all land and beaches.

This state is 59 miles long and 40 miles wide. Also the highest point in Rhode Island is Jerimoth Hill which is 812 feet high. The lowest point in Rhode Island is the Atlantic Ocean.

Rhode Island is very normal as it goes threw all the seasons. So that means it has chilly and cold winters. But in the summer it is warm and has rainy days. The hottest day in Rhode Island was 104 degrees and the coldest day was below 23 degrees. Rhode also gets several hurricanes each year.

In Rhode Island there are not many animals but we have foxes, coyotes and the Rhode Island Red. Rhode Island's main tree is the red maple. The main stone and shell is the quahog and the cumbelandite for stone. The flower in Rhode Island is the violet.

Rhode Island may be one of the only states that has coffee syrup which tastes delicious. Also it is the only state that has Del's Lemonade which is made with real lemons. Rhode Island also all different kinds of people in Rhode Island; such as, Hispanic, African-American, Native Americans, Irish, Italians, Portuguese, and many more. The state population is 1,050,788. Also Rhode Island has 36 Islands.

The number of counties in the state is five. Rhode Island's nickname is the Ocean State.

Tourists visit Rhode Island. If you would like to have a peaceful time, you can go to the Ocean State to enjoy its many beaches.

